A Canadian Conference on Language Laboratories will be held at Sir George Williams University January 22 to 24.

Its purpose is to acquaint those involved in language laboratory operations with current thought regarding principles, practice and techniques in the field. Internationally known specialists in the technology of language learning will speak, and the most advanced techniques will be demonstrated.

Among the 300 delegates expected are those from Belgium, France, Germany, Japan, Sweden, the United Kingdom, the USSR, the USA, and Argentina.

The conference is jointly sponsored by Sir George Williams University, l'Université de Montréal and the National Association of Language Laboratory Directors.
